

Automotive Law

For more than 20 years, Sills Cummis & Gross has represented manufacturers and distributors of European automobiles in a wide variety of legal matters, including, among other things, dealer disputes, customer/consumer disputes, and corporate and real estate matters. The Firm draws on its significant knowledge of the automobile industry to advise its clients on potential disputes, to facilitate cost-effective dispute resolution, and, when necessary, to vigorously represent its clients when litigation ensues.